YOUTUBE DOCUMENTARIES

13 to 17
years old

The YouTube Documentaries Summer Camp is designed for teens seeking a solid technical and creative introduction to documentary filmmaking. In this camp, students will learn the fundamentals of documentary filmmaking - utilizing core strategies of professional filmmakers to create factually-based stories. They will consider their target audience, outline expectations, research key story points, utilize best interview practices, and determine the mood and tone of their film. Students will work individually and collaboratively to define the goal of their film, script, scout locations, and capture and edit footage - experiencing the great art of filmmaking from concept to execution, from scratch to screen.
