PROGRAMME INFORMATION

LOCATION INFORMATION

The stunning borough of Greenwich is considered one of London's treasures, and is therefore visited by thousands each year. The Greenwich Campus uses the Old Royal Naval college, designated a World Heritage site by UNESCO as being of 'outstanding universal value'. Greenwich is home to beautiful old buildings, large green spaces and famous historic sites like the Royal Observatory and Cutty Sark.

The accommodation is just a few minutes from both the campus and transport into central London. The DLR takes a picturesque route across bridges and through skyscrapers, bringing you right to the heart of London. The cultural programme benefits from use of a beautiful campus, ease of access into the city and access to the 183 acres of Greenwich Park.
